

Javier Jimenez Fernandez-Figares

Consultant

Javier holds a double degree in Business Administration and Law from ICADE, Madrid, and a Master's Degree in Cultural Management from the Universidad Carlos III de Madrid in 2008. By combining a solid education in planning and managerial issues with a cultural oriented career, Javier is able to give grounded solutions to the museum sector.

Javier has further extended his studies with several university postgraduate courses in issues such as Urban Strategic Planning, Cultural Planning and Museology.

Prior to joining Lord, Javier worked at the Thyssen-Bornemisza Museum in 2007, where he participated in the implementation of educational programmes and in the development of several projects as part of the Education and Research team of the museum.

Javier has experience in the field of exhibition display with eventual collaborations at Duran Art Gallery in Madrid. He has also worked in Intellectual Property issues at Law Firm Gómez-Acebo & Pombo in Brussels.

Javier is fluent in English, French and Spanish.

Javier is currently part of the management consultancy team for the Middle East.
