Beating the Olympic odds

The Olympic Games have always given a podium to cities to flex their soft-power muscles for a global audience but a history of overspent and legacy failures have taken the shine off the glory. Why does Malin-Cortina think that its 2026 Winter Games can buck the trend and be a success?

FOCUS

BY-PLACE BEAUTY

Smartphones have become our defence, always there, always helpful, almost always there to guide us through life with more time to think.

About the writer: Anne Marie Costello

Section 1

Editor 14 6/2020

POLICY / GLOBAL

One world, one vision?

World Olympics in China

Gives me 30 seconds and I can list 50 huge problems that humanity is facing or is in the climate change process of facing. All of (or most of) these problems are caused by people, usually a very small part of the population, who have the means to do harm. It's not the governments, it's not the technology, it's not the climate, it's not the economy. It is us. This is a question that we know the solution to yet our actions are not the same. Building infrastructure is one of the things that can help to change that. The first Olympic Games in 1896 was a small event and it's one of the reasons why we think of the Olympics as a global cultural and sport event. The first Olympic Games in 1896 was a small event and it's one of the reasons why we think of the Olympics as a global cultural and sport event.

About the writer: VIPER

POLICY / GLOBAL

Displays and displacement

Museums improve urban spaces – we must ensure that the power of culture is not used as a force for gentrification

About the writer: VIPER

COMMUNICATION

By-eve black mirror

Smartphones have become our defence, always there, almost always there, almost always there to guide us through life with more time to think.

About the writer: VIPER

The new decade starts in a worst state but look at the buffoonery of Trump and Johnson in the right light and optimism isn't the folly it first appears.

About the writer: VIPER

POLICY / GLOBAL

From North to sea and back again. Trump's stupidity is the US's biggest advantage

About the writer: VIPER

Beating the Olympic odds

The Olympic Games have always given a podium to cities to flex their soft-power muscles for a global audience but a history of overspent and legacy failures have taken the shine off the glory. Why does Malin-Cortina think that its 2026 Winter Games can buck the trend and be a success?

FOCUS

BY-PLACE BEAUTY

Smartphones have become our defence, always there, always helpful, almost always there to guide us through life with more time to think.

About the writer: Anne Marie Costello

Section 1

Editor 14 6/2020

POLICY / GLOBAL

One world, one vision?

World Olympics in China

Gives me 30 seconds and I can list 50 huge problems that humanity is facing or is in the climate change process of facing. All of (or most of) these problems are caused by people, usually a very small part of the population, who have the means to do harm. It's not the governments, it's not the technology, it's not the climate, it's not the economy. It is us. This is a question that we know the solution to yet our actions are not the same. Building infrastructure is one of the things that can help to change that. The first Olympic Games in 1896 was a small event and it's one of the reasons why we think of the Olympics as a global cultural and sport event. The first Olympic Games in 1896 was a small event and it's one of the reasons why we think of the Olympics as a global cultural and sport event.

About the writer: VIPER

POLICY / GLOBAL

Displays and displacement

Museums improve urban spaces – we must ensure that the power of culture is not used as a force for gentrification

About the writer: VIPER

COMMUNICATION

By-eve black mirror

Smartphones have become our defence, always there, almost always there, almost always there to guide us through life with more time to think.

About the writer: VIPER

The new decade starts in a worst state but look at the buffoonery of Trump and Johnson in the right light and optimism isn't the folly it first appears.

About the writer: VIPER

POLICY / GLOBAL

From North to sea and back again. Trump's stupidity is the US's biggest advantage

About the writer: VIPER

Beating the Olympic odds

The Olympic Games have always given a podium to cities to flex their soft-power muscles for a global audience but a history of overspent and legacy failures have taken the shine off the glory. Why does Malin-Cortina think that its 2026 Winter Games can buck the trend and be a success?