

KATHERINE HANNEMANN

Senior Consultant

Katherine Hannemann is a Senior Consultant on the Exhibitions and Events team at Lord Cultural Resources. She is responsible for exhibition development for a range of institutions, including interpretive planning, research, content development, coordination and project management. She also contributes to cultural event programming and development.

Since joining Lord, Katherine has contributed to a number of cultural institutions in the capacities of interpretive planning, content development, and event design, including Ontario's Celebration Zone at the Pan Am and Parapan Am Games, the Hennick Family Wellness Gallery at Mount Sinai Hospital, the University of Michigan Museum of Natural History, the Halifax Citadel National Historic Site, and heritage galleries at Sparrow Health System, among several others. She has also contributed to Lord's thought leadership on the importance of arts in healthcare and hospitals through the white paper "Arts in Healthcare and Wellness Settings: Evidence, Initiatives, and Case Studies."

As a Senior Consultant at Lord, Katherine is passionate about creating inclusive and engaging exhibitions that leverage multiple perspectives and diverse approaches to interpreting heritage. She believes in the value of lifelong learning through non-traditional education, acknowledging the important role that museum exhibitions play in sharing ideas and knowledge.

Prior to joining Lord Cultural Resources, Katherine worked as a Senior Designer in Business Development and Projects at Overlap Associates, an engagement and strategy firm based in Kitchener, Ontario. At Overlap, Katherine gained significant experience in stakeholder and community engagement using a human-centred design methodology. She has also contributed to interpretive planning and content development for virtual exhibitions with The National Ballet of Canada and Canada's National Ballet School in Toronto, as well as permanent and temporary exhibitions with the Stratford Perth Museum in Stratford, Ontario. She also served on the University of Toronto's Master of Museum Studies Alumni Committee for its 50th anniversary activities in 2018 - 2019.

Katherine holds a Master of Museum Studies from the University of Toronto and Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in English literature from McGill University, with a minor in German language.
