

KAREN CARTER

Associate Consultant

Karen Carter is a cultural sector thought leader who specializes in creative and educational environments. She has over 20 years of experience working and volunteering in a range of arts, culture and heritage settings in Toronto.

Karen is the former Executive Director of Heritage Toronto, a City of Toronto agency responsible for the education and promotion of Toronto's heritage. She is the founding Executive Director of Myuseum of Toronto and co-founder and Director of Black Artists' Network and Dialogue (BAND), an organization that is dedicated to the promotion of Black artists in Canada and abroad. Karen's most recent project CArt is a Caribbean Art Fair that launched in January 2020 in Mandeville, Jamaica. CArt is a contemporary art fair connecting artists from the Caribbean region to the international art world.